Aarif & Zero

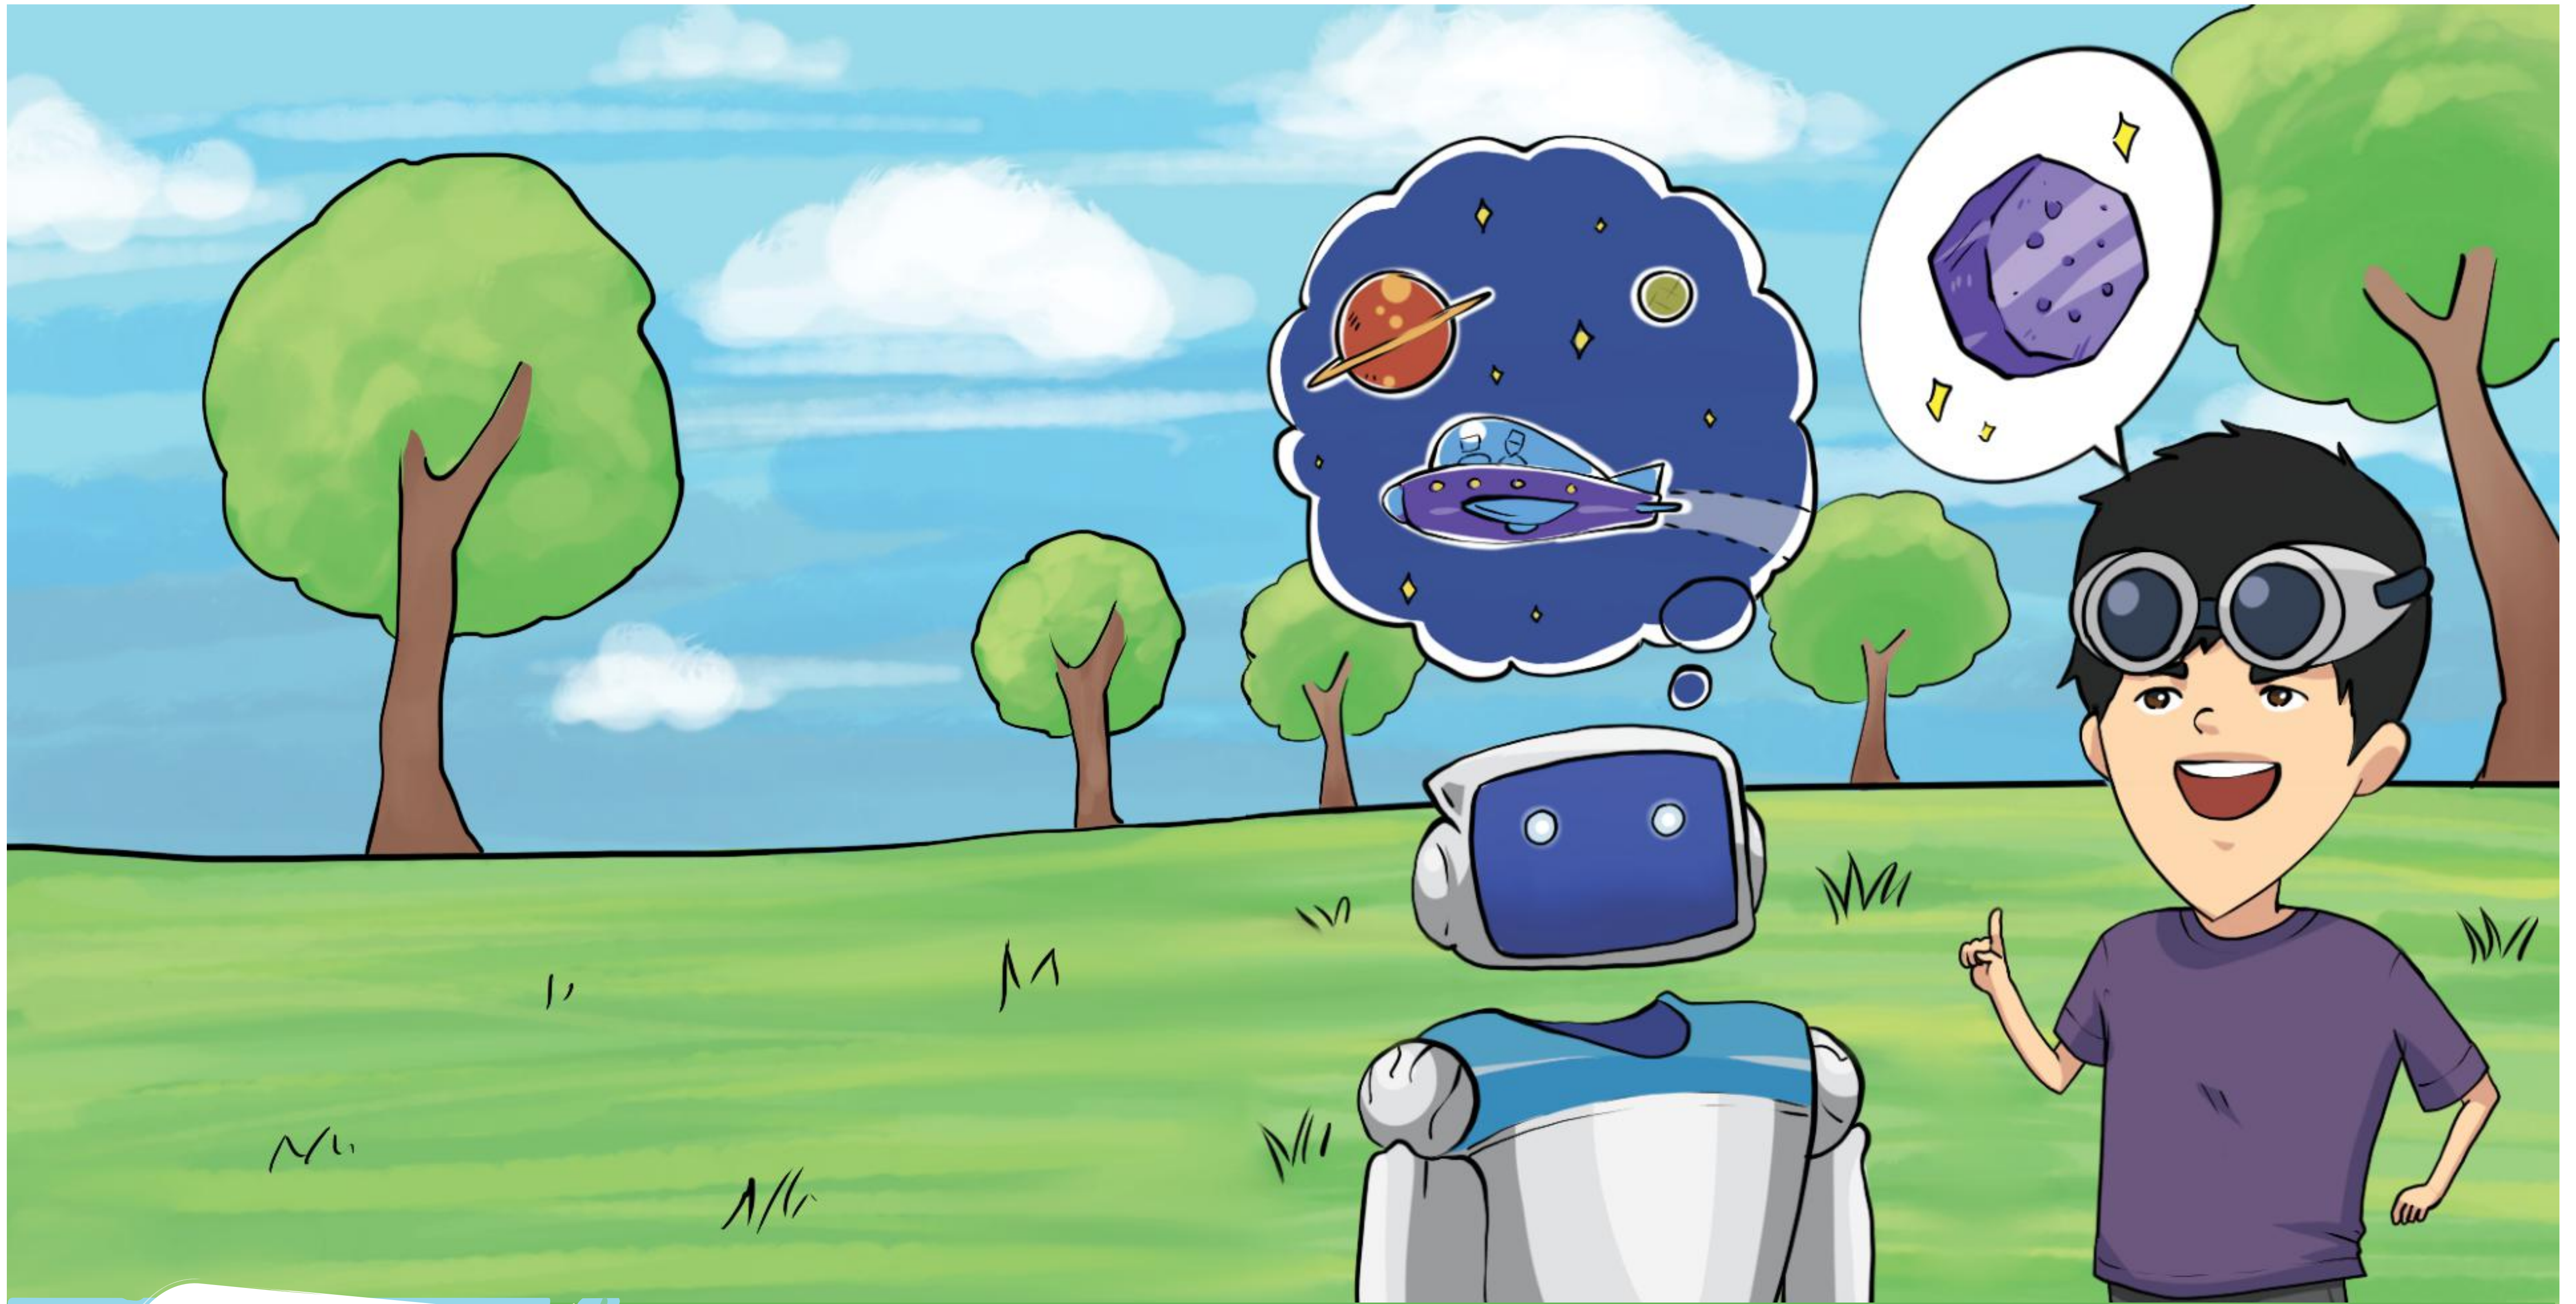

In Search Of The Rare Metal Rhenium

Author : Omamah Al Lawati

Name: _____

Age: _____

Summer vacation is nearing; Arif and Robot Zero were thinking about how to spend their time during the holiday. "My parents will travel to visit their friends and I don't want to go with them, because their friends don't have kids of my age!" said Arif.

"I would like to spend my vacation with my parents in Planet Holulu, but how can I travel to them after my spaceship has broken down and an important metal part has shattered?" Zero asked sadly.

"Why don't we find this metal and fix your spaceship? then we can travel together to your planet which I wish to see!" replied Arif.

"and where will we get this metal from?" Zero asked enthusiastically.

"I looked for this rare metal, which is called "Rhenium", and I found that it is used to build engines and spaceships, but we have to travel to Mexico to get it. I am sure it will be a wonderful adventure but of course we have first to ask my parents for permission to do that" answered Arif

The two happy and enthusiastic friends jumped into Arif's ground vehicle, set the flight route and informed the aviation authority about the important information of their trip, and then received the following message:

"Hello adventurer Arif and his nice space friend Zero. To get this metal you will have to face some challenges safely, and if you succeed, you will get this rare metal as a precious gift for your effort.

But if you feel threatened and want to ask for help, you can contact the protection center directly at 1100, we wish you a happy trip."

The two friends set off their exciting journey, and from sky, Zero kept watching the landscape of vast seas and rivers, which he had never seen before on his planet Holulu.

Wait.... wait what's happening ? Zero, It seems someone is trying to hack into our network” Zero heard the voice of Arif, saying in astonishment.

“What... ? what should we do now?” asked Zero. “Zero please tell me what's the secret name for the system that we use in our ground vehicle?” asked Arif.

“Ummm do you mean the password? I used the letters of my name only "Z,e,r,o". Should I use my full name as a password?” Zero said happily.

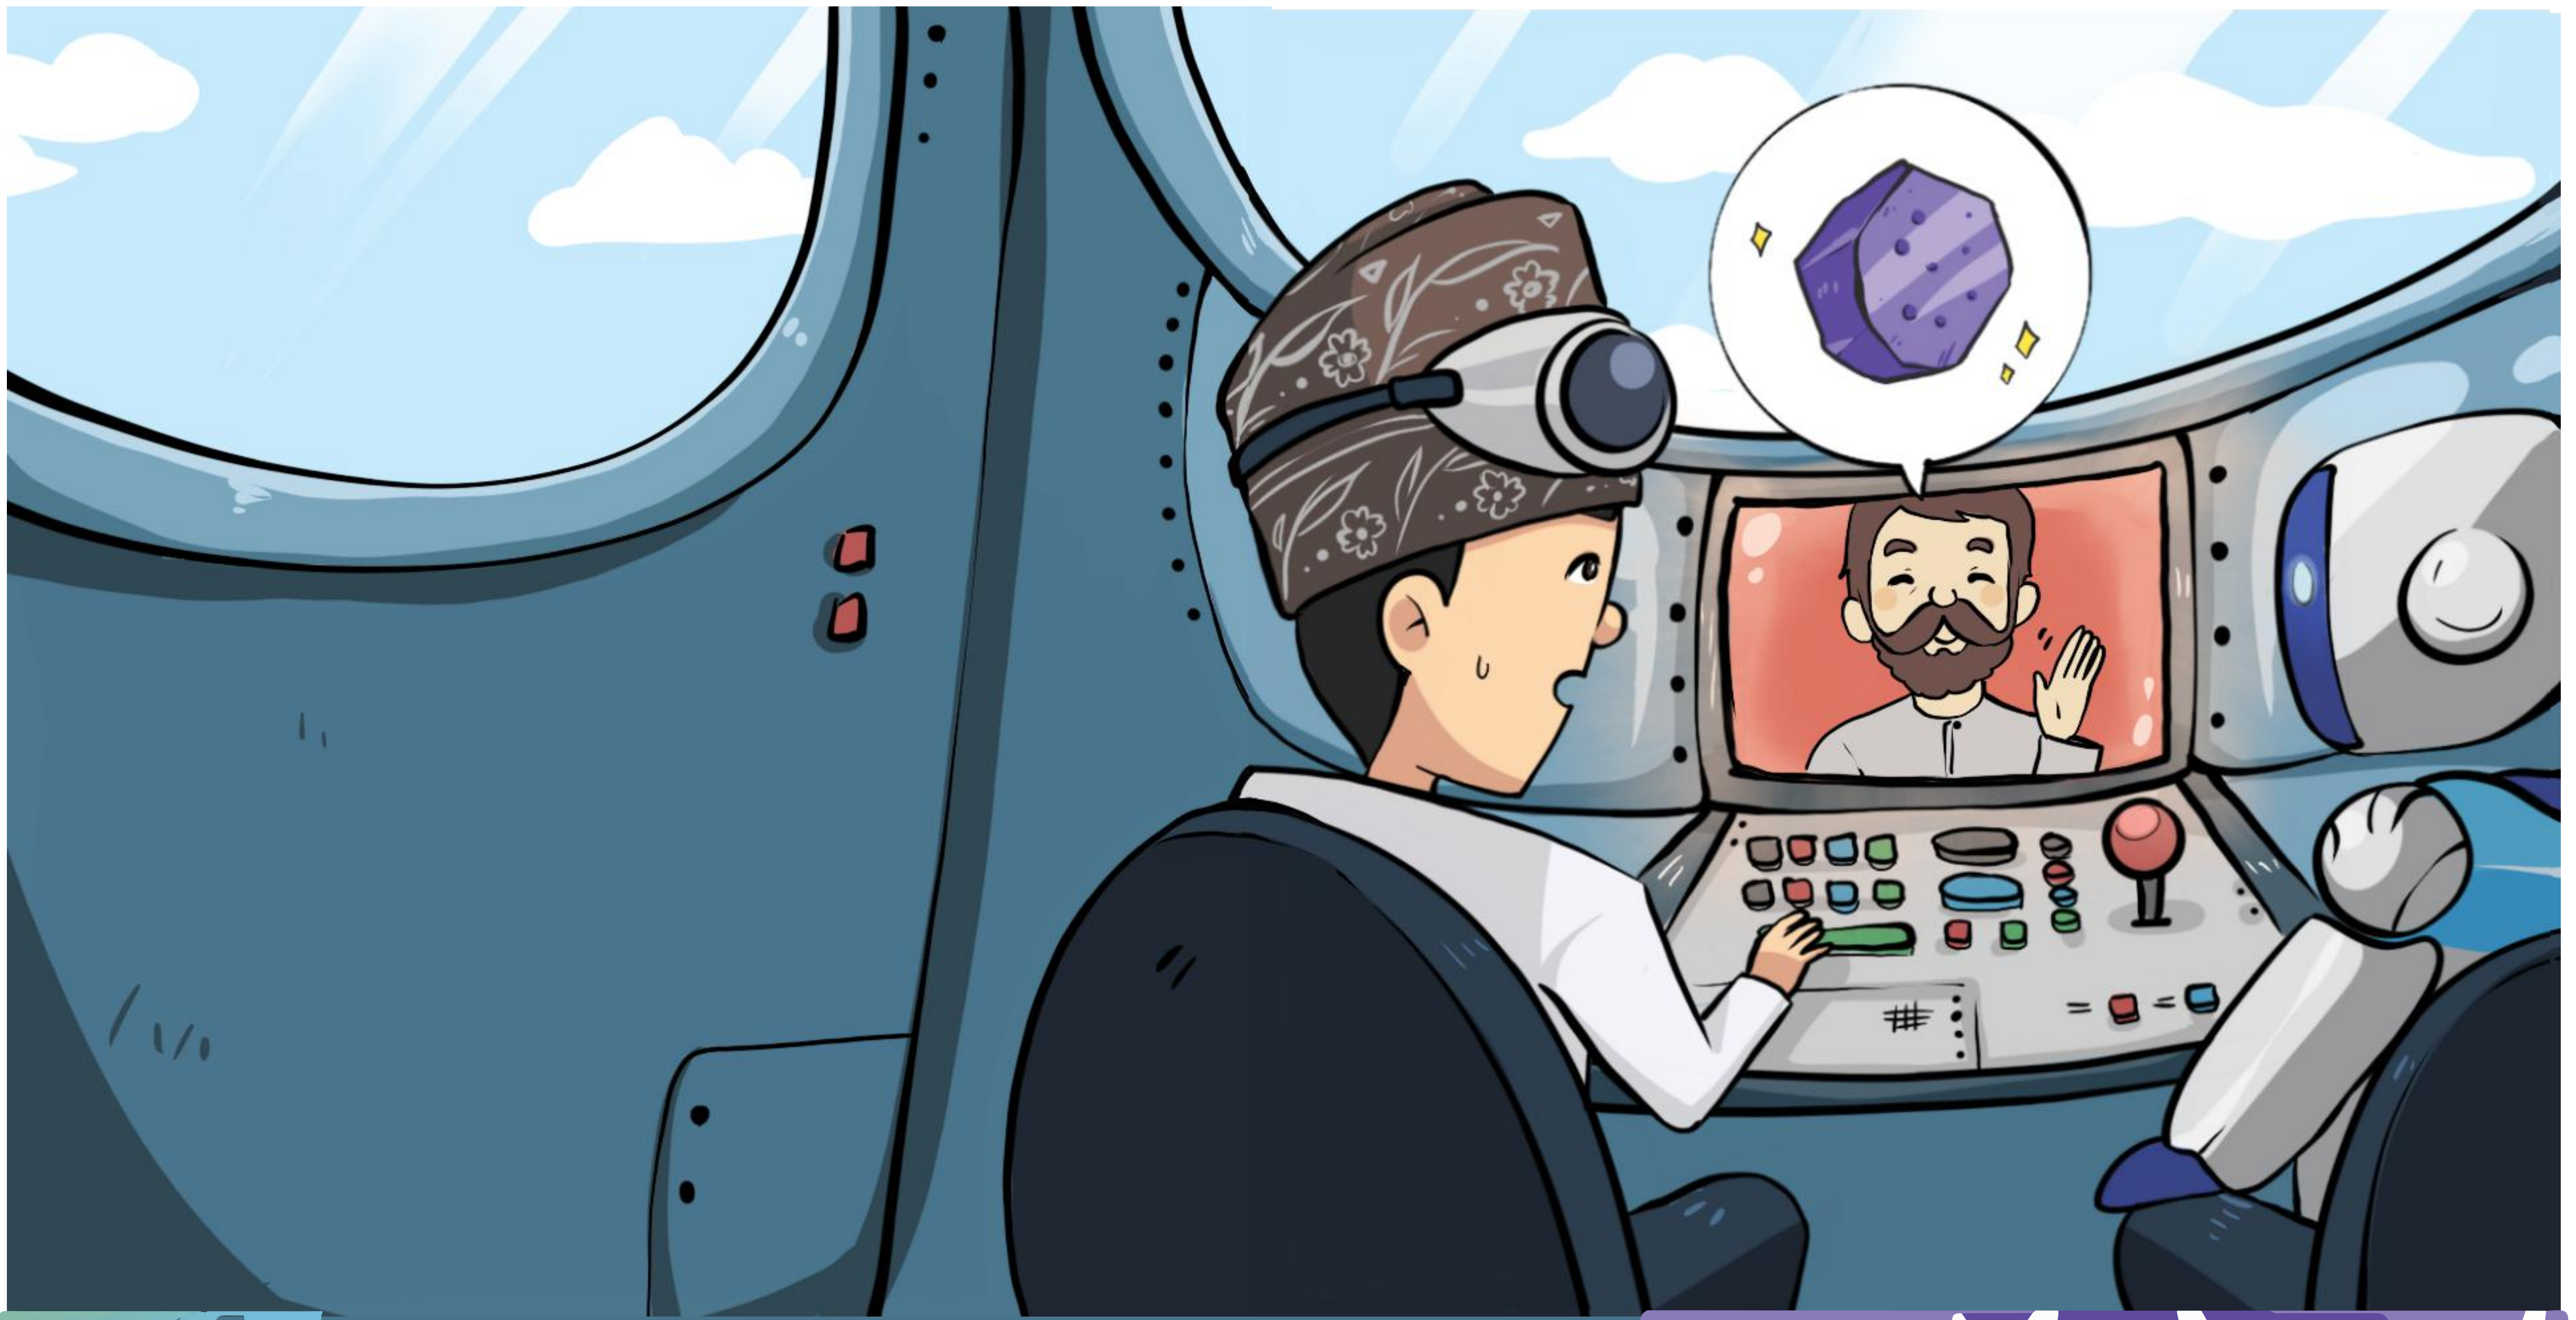

"I will just change it to something slightly harder so that nobody can guess it easily, for example we'll use letters and numbers, such as a combination of your name's letters, numbers and symbols (Zero435@)" Arif said with a smile.

"But why is the red warning symbol still flashing up on the screen?" asked Zero.

Arif screamed: "the network seems to be infected with viruses ... Zero, have you downloaded new games? "

Zero hesitantly answered " Yes, yes, I restarted my iPad yesterday and noticed that my favorite game "Minecraft" had disappeared, so I downloaded the game again in my device"

"Maybe next time we should do this with my father since there are many annoying links and ads that contain viruses, and these viruses might get into our computer when we try to download games from the Internet. " said Arif.

Suddenly a loud and strange laugh came out inside their ground vehicle, and a picture of a nice person appeared on their screen as he was saying:

"Dear friends, I am an expert in the field of minerals and have heard about your exciting journey from Arif's account on Snapchat. Please allow me to accompany you and I will help you get to Mexico faster"

"This is strange...I didn't mention in my Snapchat account that I was looking for a metal, and I didn't say I am traveling to Mexico, who this person might be?" asked Arif in astonishment.

Zero got closer to Arif and asked him in a low voice "Can we call our friends at the protection center to check?"

Arif jumped out of his place, disconnected the Internet and the communication network and said : " Zero you are amazing..your idea made me think, how did this man get our number while we are traveling ?"

Arif quickly opened a secure network and called the protection center at 1100.

"Hello...hello is this the protection center 1100? Can you hear me?" asked Arif on the phone.

"Yes, this is the protection center , how can I help you?"

"I'm 12 years old and I have my friend Zero with me, there's a stranger who has hacked our network, can you protect us?"

“Don't worry, we will take from you all the required information, and will protect you immediately”

The two friends were somehow worried because if they can't overcome the electronic hazards they are facing they would not be able to get the rare metal and fix Zero's spaceship.

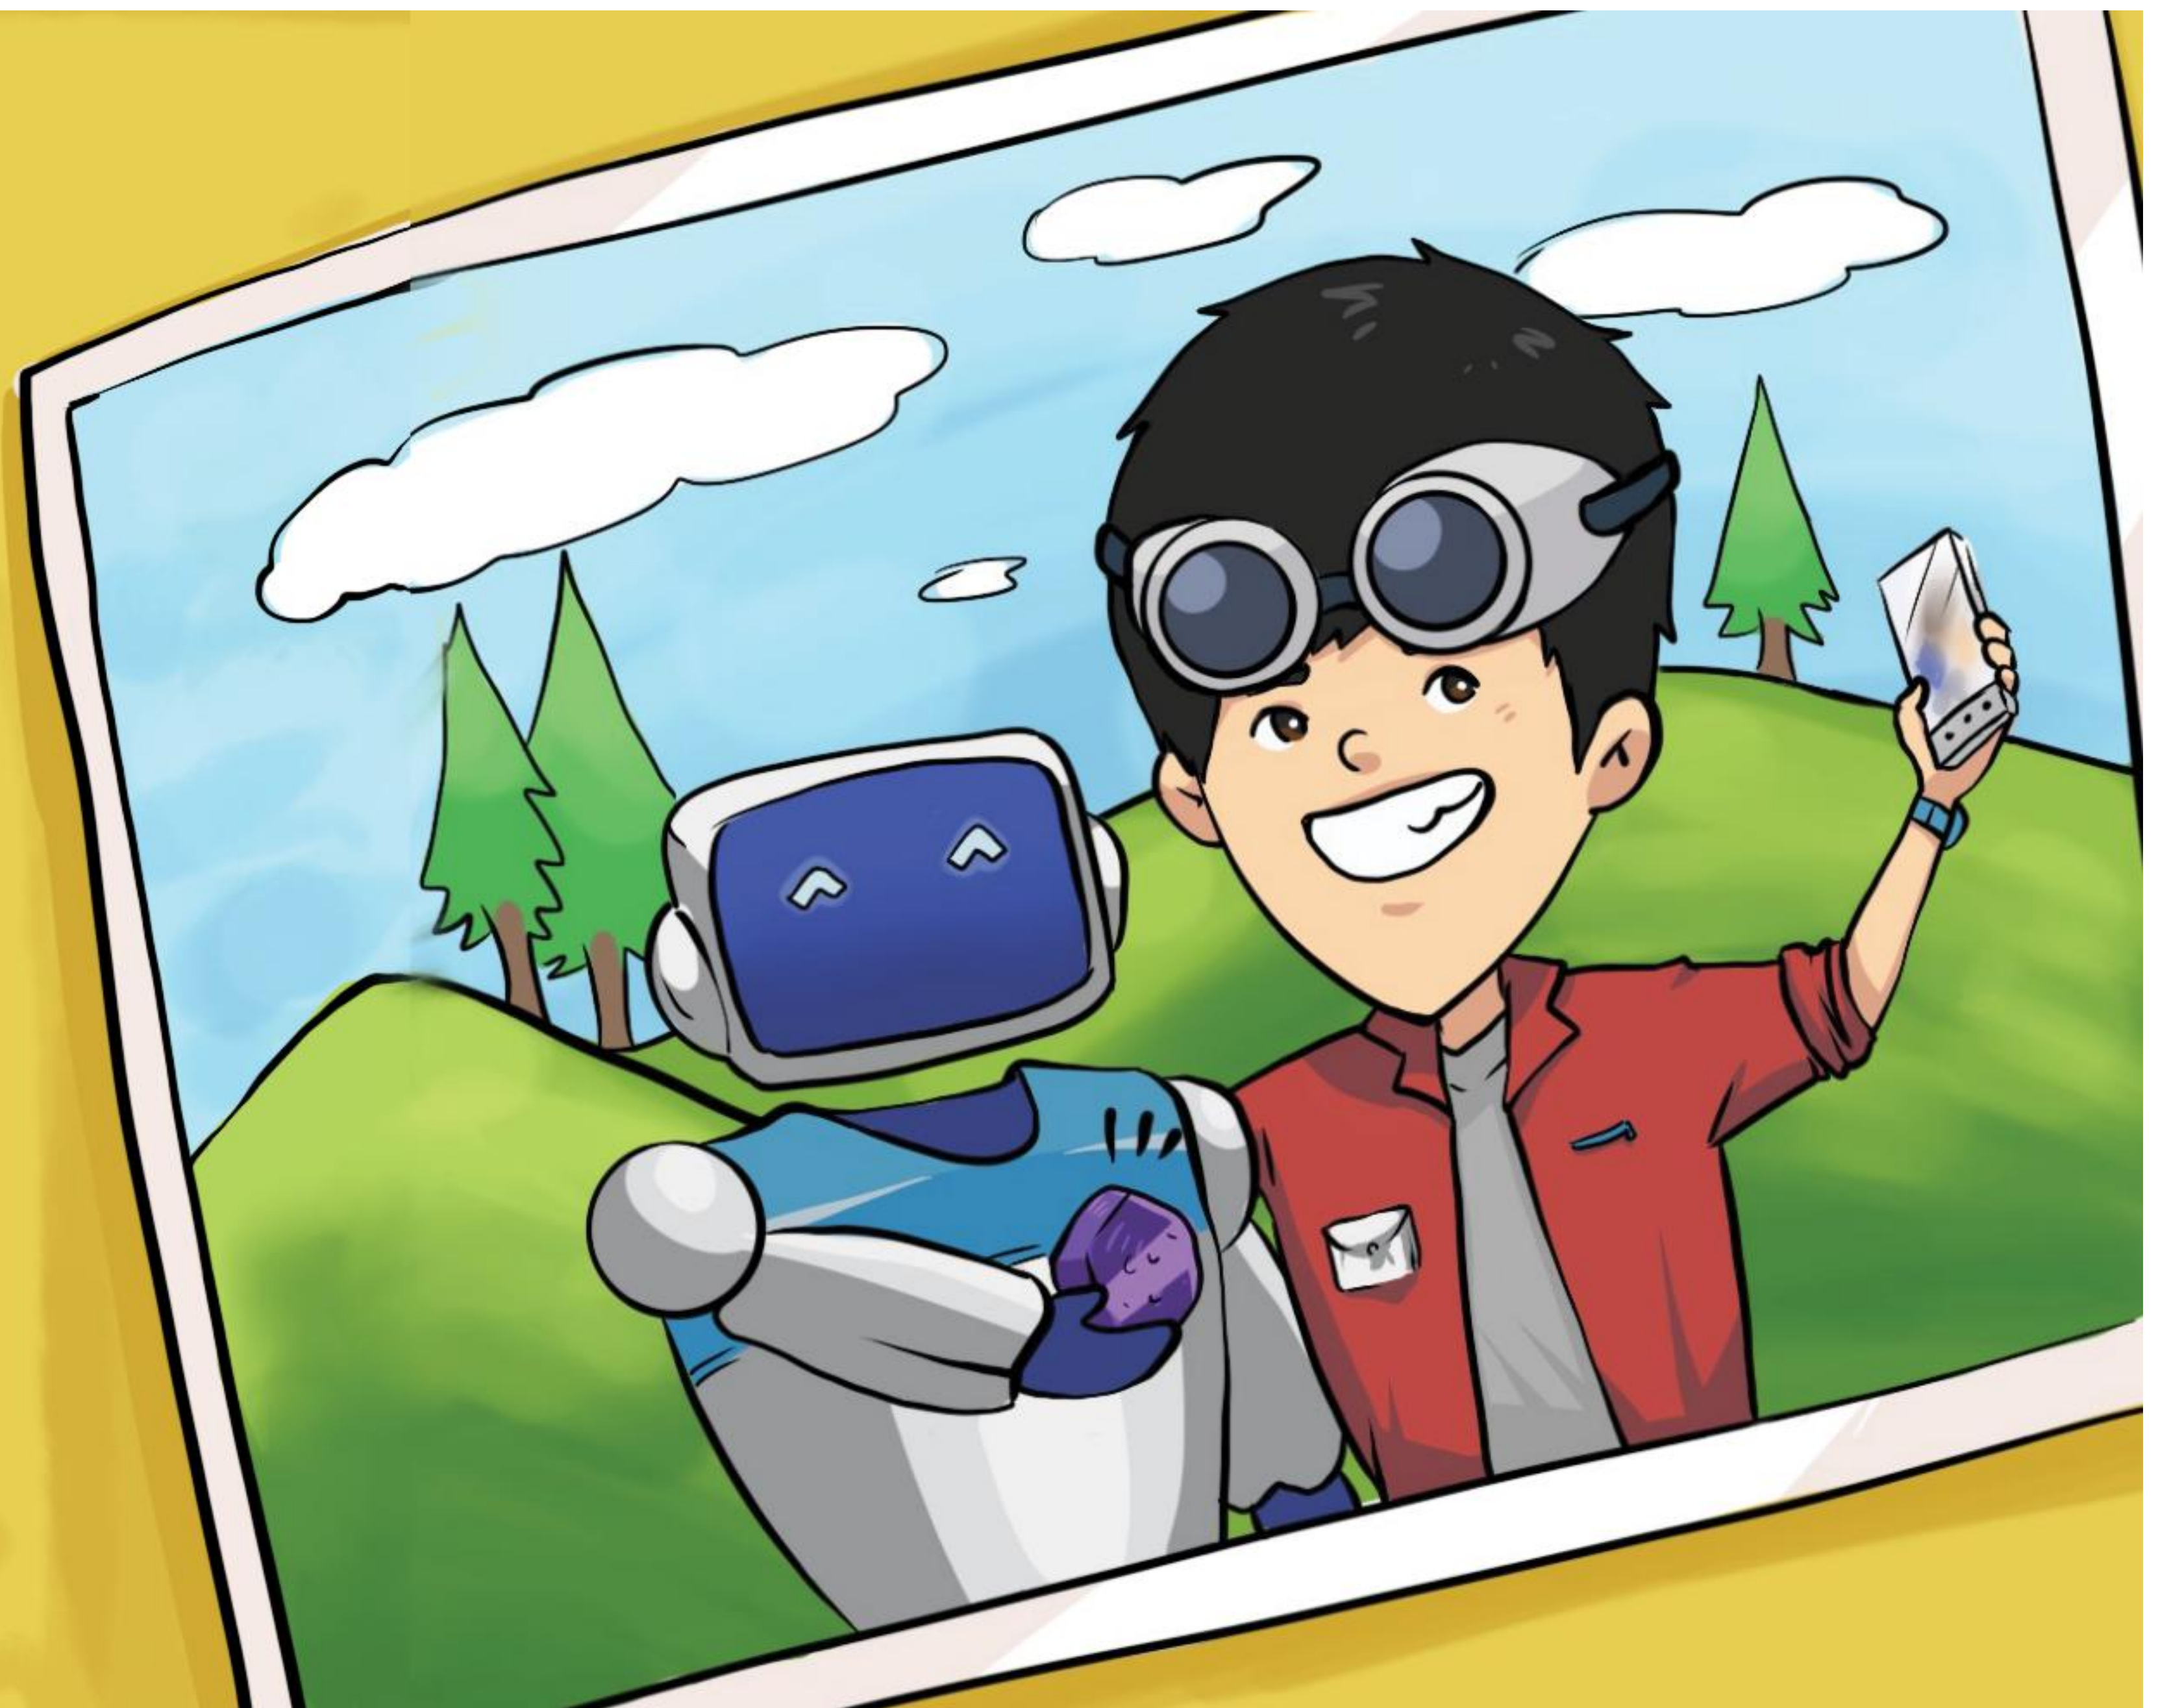

After a short wait Arif received a phone call from the protection center,

"Thank you for requesting our help at the right time. We have to inform you that the photo of the nice person you have sent to us is not real; it's the photo of the bad hacker "Lathi'e" said the voice on the phone.

"Unfortunately, he broke out of prison, and hacked the communication network and the Internet, and managed to identify your location."

"He knew we were looking for this rare and precious metal and was planning to steal it from you, luckily we have captured him "

Arif and Zero felt relieved and happy when they knew the hacker was captured. They decided to rest for a while after they had spent more than half an hour using iPads and telephone without rest.

Finally, the two adventurous friends arrived in Mexico and managed to get the rare metal as a gift for their great effort.

Before they left Mexico Zero said "Arif why don't we take some selfies, and edit them by adding pictures of some beautiful attractions? It would seem like we have been on a trip to the tourist attractions in Mexico?"

"My friend, how about if we go on a real trip to these tourist attractions and then we can repair your vehicle and get back to your beautiful planet?" asked Arif.

Zero applauded by clapping his hands and making metal ringing sound while saying: "You are wonderful, my friend, I love to travel with you because you are a good person, adventurous and intelligent too. You also know how to protect yourself and your friends, let's go now"

Help Arif & Zero find their way to Planet Holulu!

The End

*Stay tuned for
